

HORSEBACK RIDING

Join University of Arizona Outdoor Recreation for a horseback riding day trip and experience the Sonoran Desert from a whole new perspective. Perfect for beginners and first-time riders, this trip includes instruction from experienced wranglers on riding basics and safety, followed by a relaxed ride through scenic desert landscapes. After the ride, we'll grab tacos at a local spot, making this the perfect combo of outdoor adventure and Tucson exploration—all a fun break from campus with no riding experience required.
